On February 5, 2015, the home of a black family in Manhattan Beach became the target of arson. More than 700 people joined a candlelight vigil to support the family. The organization "Not In Our Town" has produced a short documentary on the Clinton family's story. In addition to a screening of the film, Farnaz G. Flechner, the Executive Director of the Manhattan Beach Educational Foundation will discuss the school-based programs which have been created because of the generosity of the Clintons and the people of Manhattan Beach.
